Messrs. Forbes & Bush sold three of their lots last week to parties who will build at an early date. These lots are situated between 17th and 18th streets, west of Main.

WANTED: An intelligent lady or gentleman to sell the authentic proceeding of "The Parliament of Religions," eight weeks pleasant and profitable employment. Write quick if you want territory. The Historical Publishing Co., Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Thomas Rodman has sold his half interest in the firm of Rodman & Co. to Judge R. T. Petree, who becomes sole owner of the business, which will continue to be conducted by Mr. Thos. N. Petree, assisted by Mr. J. F. Daurforth.

The noted Louisville specialist, Dr. J. S. Appleman, will spend next Thursday at the Phoenix hotel in this city. The afflicted should remember the date.

Mr. Chas. Williams has bought out Mr. J. W. Wicks' stock of goods at Fruit Hill, and will continue business at the same stand. Mr. Wicks moved to this city several weeks ago, where he will reside in future.

Geo. C. Long, executor of J. M. Clark, dec'd, will sell his personal effects on the farm, Tuesday, November 28th 1893, including this year's crop of wheat, oats, corn, hay and clover seed. Also fat hogs and other valuable stock.

Town Marshal Wadlington, of Ed-dyville, shot and killed Tobe Watson a young grocer, in a quarrel growing out of the fact that Watson placed a bill against Wadlington in the hands of a constable for collection.

Moss West and family, formerly of Hopkinsville, this week moved to Madisonville and are now bonafide citizens of our city. They moved their furniture a week or two since. Mr. West will go into business soon. He with others will occupy the new Dulin Block on Main street. He is one of the firm of Dulin, West & Co. Our people gladly welcome this family to our town.—Hustler.

Ex-Gov. Bob Taylor will deliver his delightful melodramatic lecture, "The Paradise of Fools" at the Opera House Thursday evening, Nov. 23rd. Laughs and laughter are the emotions he invokes. Wit and wisdom, elegance and eloquence, poetry and pathos, music and melody, pearly phrases and sonorous sentences are the elements that distinguish the lecture and the lecturer. Gov. Taylor has been here before and the simple announcement that he will return is sufficient to draw a large house.

The next attraction at the Opera House is Alha Heywood, the versatile comedian in "Edgewood Folks," on Nov. 22. The piece combines a light and pleasant farce with a plot more intricate than ordinary, with enough of the sensational to make it decidedly interesting.

Hereafter no building of any kind or character can be erected in Hopkinsville without the permission of the City Council. At the meeting last week a Building Committee of four members was appointed with power to issue permits between meetings of the Council. The members of this important committee are Messrs. Forbes, Anderson, Dabney and West.

The Arlington Hotel, Louisville, recently changed hands. Mr. W. T. Grant, formerly with the Alexander, becoming proprietor. In this issue we insert an ad. of this popular hotel and would remind our readers that when visiting Louisville it would be well to give Mr. Grant a call. Reasonable rates will be given and the location of the hotel is quite convenient to the public, and especially so to tobacco men, being at the corner of Twelfth and Main.

Dr. Andrew Seargent, whose name was printed on the official ballot for Coroner, although there is no vacancy in that office, received 2,637 votes, with Howell precinct not reported. Dr. Seargent was refused a certificate by the full board of canvassers, as Judge Morrow refused to sign it. The County Clerk and Sheriff, the Republicans on the board, will however issue a certificate and Dr. Seargent has employed Mr. C. H. Bush as attorney and will attempt to oust the present Coroner, Dr. Dennis.

Gallatin, Tenn., is in the throes of a sensational breach of promise case, the parties being Miss Mary Hullet, a handsome young dark-haired, black-eyed girl, and Mr. B. John Baker, a wealthy widower of seventy-two years, with numerous grandchildren. The case is now on trial in the circuit court, and the witness stand Miss Hullet testified that above a year ago Mr. Baker made love to her and asked her to marry him, and that she agreed; that by the urgent solicitation and entreaties of his children, he was induced to cease his visits to her, and refused to marry her, therefore she sues him for $10,000 damages. The defendant enters a general denial and says it is a case of blackmail.

Tabernacle Engagements.

Our engagements at the Tabernacle for the season are the Harvard Quartette on 13th, who are admired by tens of thousands in all parts of the country.

On 6th December at a heavy cost we will have the world renowned Dr. Talmage.

Jan. 29 comes Rev. Tom Dixon, of N. Y. (not of Henderson, Ky.), only 30 years old, yet "a mountain torrent, a flash of lightning, a meadow stream, a Damascus blade. So says the Biblical Record.

The date for the Jones meeting is not definitely fixed yet.

Early in Feb. you will again be charmed by the gifted orator, Geo. R. Wendling, in his great lecture, "Is Death the End?"

March 7 the great traveler, C. E. Bolton, eight times around the globe, will take you over 10,000 miles of realistic travels, presenting 1,000 beautiful and brilliantly illustrated views of cities, cathedrals, ruins, paintings and statuary.

These engagements comprise the most expensive and distinguished talent furnished by the lecture bureau.

We give list to correct a false impression.

W. W. WARE, Pres.

Squibs From Croton.

CAIRO, Nov. 12. Our town is improving her sidewalks, making some new ones out of stones, some gravel and a few planks.

The flouring mill at this place, operated by the nice genial Barkholder Bros., is running night and day a good portion of the time now.

Mr. Chas. Williams has bought out Mr. J. W. Wicks' stock of goods at Fruit Hill, and will continue business at the same stand. Mr. Wicks moved to this city several weeks ago, where he will reside in future.

Geo. C. Long, executor of J. M. Clark, dec'd, will sell his personal effects on the farm, Tuesday, November 28th 1893, including this year's crop of wheat, oats, corn, hay and clover seed. Also fat hogs and other valuable stock.

A Pleasant Event.

TRENTON, Ky. Nov. 11.—Upon last Wednesday evening, at their beautiful country home, near Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crutchfield entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McElwain.

Mr. and Mrs. Crutchfield were assisted in receiving by their daughter, Miss Ada, and her friend, Miss Lucy Mims, who entertained the guests in a most delightful manner. An elegant repast, in six courses, was served at 11 o'clock, after which dancing was indulged in until "the em's" hours.

Among those present, were Misses Lizzie Small, Susie Garth, Mattie Sullivan, Gerrie McElwain, Lulu Wakefield, Bessie Garth, Jennie Cabiniss, Olie Dickinson, Ella McCrea, Mattie White, and Maggie Collins, and Messrs. Walter Ware, Luther Petree, Cross White, Russell Hogan, Harry Burge, Hubbard Dickinson, Sam Dickinson, Arch Dickinson, Frank Waller, Lucien Camp, and Charlie Waller.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

DEATHS.

MASSIE.—Mrs. J. A. Massie died near Pembroke last Wednesday, after an illness of several weeks. The interment took place at Salubria Thursday, Elder J. W. Mitchell of this city, preaching the funeral.

MOSS.—Mrs. Lila A. Moss, daughter of T. J. Moss and wife of J. C. Moss, died at her home near Lafayette, Ky., Nov. 2, 1893, aged 22 years. The funeral services were held by the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, pastor of the Lafayette circuit. She leaves a husband and an infant daughter.

PERSONAL MENTION.

THEY say Kipling gets not less than five hundred dollars for each ballad he writes.

GEN. VAN ALLEN, father of our Italian minister, is described as "one of the warmest-hearted, blindest and also gentlest of Americans of a generation ago."

MISS EDDIE M. KEINSTEON and Carrie L. Hodson, who arrived in Boston a few days ago, are newspaper women who spent the summer riding through the British isles on bicycles.

HENRY FAIRFAX, of Loudoun county, is the richest member of the Virginia senate. He is a brother-in-law of Capt. Charles G. Ayres, U. S. A., now in charge of the recruiting office at Lynchburg.

E. N. HUBBARD, of Middletown, Conn., has the finest collection of living birds in New England. It includes species from almost every country in the world and is worth thousands of dollars.

COMMON MISTAKES.

COLUMBUS did not foretell an eclipse of the moon to frighten the natives of Jamaica into rendering him assistance. There was no eclipse of the moon at that time.

The immense burning glasses with which Archimedes burned the ships of the besiegers of Syracuse at ten miles distance were never manufactured, and it is now known that they could not be.

COLUMBUS did not make an egg stand on end to confuse his opponents. The feat was performed by Brunelleschi, the architect, to silence critics who asked him how he was going to support the dome of the cathedral of Florence.

The day is usually reckoned as being twenty-four hours in length. Strictly speaking, such is a mistake. The standard unit of time is the "sidereal day," which is 23 hours 56 minutes and 4.092 seconds in the "solar" "mean" day.
